TO: Washington State Redistricting Commissioners

My family has resided in the State of Washington since April, 1990. 2 of our children graduated from Lake Washington High School in Kirkland and 1 from Interlake High School in Bellevue. All three attended the University of Washington.

According to the economic forecasts released shortly after we moved to Washington, Bellevue was expected to evolve from a suburban city to the business hub of the Eastside. That forecast is now a reality and has been accompanied by the tremendous growth of Microsoft and other high tech development and support services in South Redmond. With this growth has come new roads, highway improvement, homes, commercial buildings, business centers, schools, social services, and city services and infrastructure that now call for a wide range of services and a more diverse workforce than existed in the days when Bellevue and Redmond were described simply as suburbs across the lake from Seattle.

In 2001, I and other community members from the Eastside testified before the Redistricting Commission to request representation for a growing community of interest (COI) extending from South Redmond through Bellevue, east of I-405 and along 148th Ave NE through Overlake, Crossroads, Lake Hills and across I-90 through Factoria, Eastgate and Newcastle \(hereinafter referred to as the So. Redmond-148th Ave NE COI\). We urged redistricting commissioners to acknowledge this community of interest and create a legislative district that would allow voters in the community to elect candidates of their choice to represent them in the state legislature.

Over the last 10 years the So. Redmond-148th Ave NE COI has continued to grow, but its voting strength has been diluted by legislative boundaries that bisect the community. NOTE: Currently, the 48th district extends from Hunts Point, Medina and Clyde Hill, downtown Bellevue and Kirkland across I-405 through Overlake, Crossroads and Lake Hills to West Lake Sammamish; while the 41st district, which includes most of Mercer Island, and West Renton runs east through Factoria, Eastgate, New Castle and Renton Highlands. It should be noted that none of the 41st or 48th state legislators live in this community of interest. In the past, people of color from this COI have had to look to Seattle minority communities and legislators to address issues of racial profiling, excessive police force or school district inequities.

The South Redmond-148th Ave NE COI is vastly different from Clyde Hill, Medina, the point communities, Mercer Island and Downtown Bellevue. This statement is supported by property tax assessments, apartment and rental housing costs, locations of King County Housing Authority subsidized housing, and South Lake Washington School District and Bellevue School District free and reduced lunch participation and test scores. If we were to plot on a map the locations of ethnic grocery stores, churches and language schools, we would find that the majority of them are located East of I-405.

The South Redmond-148th Ave NE COI has a higher percentage of immigrants and skilled and unskilled laborers who rely on public transportation and utilize the services of Hopelink, Youth Eastside Services, Jewish Family Services, Catholic Community Services, Jubilee Reach and other social service organizations. And not surprisingly, immigrants and people of color account for a much larger proportion of the population in this area than they do in the community west of I-405. Understand, too, that given our country's history, the proportion of people of color is indicative of the social-economic forces that have resulted in the gathering and concentration of people of color in certain geographic areas.

This redistricting year the 41st LD is 5,486 over and the 48th LD is 6,813 under target population. While it might be easy and expedient to simply tweak the boundary and shift population from the 41st to the 48th LD, the Redistricting Commission is expected to comply with the Voting Rights Act to insure equal opportunities for minority communities to elect representatives of their choice. Commissioners therefore have an opportunity to revise the boundaries of the 48th legislative district and address the needs of an underrepresented Eastside community of interest.

While people of color in the identified Eastside COI do not yet have sufficient numbers to call for a majority-minority district, a map of this community of interest -- 77,372 constituents – reveals that people of color already account for 50% of the population in their census blocks. And when we include Eastern European and Russian immigrants who also reside in these communities, the numbers are well over 50% of existing population.

I urge you to adhere to the Redistricting Commission's published criteria for redrawing of voting district boundaries and provide constituents in the South Redmond-148th Avenue NE community of interest equal opportunities to elect representatives of their choice to represent them in Olympia. It is unjust to wait another 10 years to provide representation for this Eastside community of interest.
